IN BRIEF

U.S. Bancorp Using DXSyndicate System

The Debt Exchange Inc. announced Monday that U.S. Bancorp is now using DXSyndicate for its loan syndication and agency functions.

DXSyndicate integrates investor contact management, deal tracking, management reporting and secure document distribution in a single, Web-based platform, DebtX said.

“DXSyndicate provides U.S. Bank with a comprehensive solution that enabled the bank to consolidate two different systems,” Jeanne Rudelius, the head of U.S. Bank’s loan capital markets unit, said in the Boston vendor’s press release. “We invested significant resources searching for the right platform and believe DXSyndicate provides a solution the marketplace has sorely needed, but has lacked until now.”

Wells Fargo & Co. and Union Bank, a unit of Mitsubishi UFJ Financial Group Inc., also are using DXSyndicate to improve collaboration between the syndication and agency functions, DebtX said.

DebtX is one of the world’s leading full-service loan sale advisors for commercial, consumer and specialty finance debt. DebtX operates the world’s largest and most liquid online marketplace for loans for DebtX’s registered and approved investors and selling institutions, including commercial banks, insurance companies, investment banks and government-sponsored enterprises. DebtX also offers DXMark®, the first objective valuation of commercial real estate portfolios based on actual secondary market loan sales. DXOpen® is a family of deal management products used by syndication and agency services professionals. DebtX is based in Boston, with U.S. offices in Atlanta, New York, and San Francisco, and European offices in London, Madrid, and Frankfurt. For information, call 617-531-3400 or visit www.debtX.com.
